ROSELLE BREWER HAS WINNING PERSONALITY

Speaker Coming Here With
"Seeing Eye" Dog Highly Recommended

Admiration, and new hope for those who are without sight, are the qualities inspired by Roselle Brewer, who will speak in the Antioch Township High School auditorium Friday evening.

Miss Brewer is being presented here under the auspices of the Antioch Business and Professional Women's club. Accompanying her will be her famous "Seeing Eye" dog, "Lady Luck."

One of the most delightful platform personalities of the day, Miss Brewer has also made several radio appearances, over station WGN with Bob Becker and on the NBC network program, "It Can Be Done," with America's poet, Edgar Guest.

Until she was 20 years of age, Miss Brewer was preparing for a career as a dancer in a Russian Ballet. At this time she lost her sight and noted specialists informed her she would not be able to regain it. She determined to enter on a new life of usefulness, however.

Organizations before which she has spoken include the Rotary club of Racine; Kalamazoo State Teachers' college; Waukegan City Teachers' association; Iowa State college, Sheboygan Woman's club, Belvidere Woman's club; Michigan State Teachers' college and the Glen Ellyn Woman's club.

McMillen Victor in Charity Mat Bouts

"Jim" McMillen, noted wrestler who claims Antioch as his "home town," won over Ignacio Martinez, colorful Mexican star, Tuesday night in the charity show bouts sponsored by the Waukegan City club, in the Waukegan High School gymnasium.

It took McMillen 37 minutes to subdue his bulky opponent. He finally brought his favorite weapon, the flying tackle, into play to score a victory.

Ralph "Ruffy" Silverstein, former intercollegiate mat champion, and Friederich von Schacht, German grappler, provided excitement in the wind-up match.

Mrs. Thomas Coole of Chicago was the guest of Mrs. J. R. McBride and daughter, Mrs. K. W. Hampton at their home on North Main street last week.

The hearing to be conducted here is one of three set for the same date. It will deal with a tentative report by the zoning commission, of which John J. Hogan, Waukegan, is chairman.

A proposed zoning ordinance for all property located outside the limits of cities, villages and incorporated towns in Lake county, which has been prepared by the commission as a result of surveys conducted since its appointment June 28, 1935, will be read.

There will be opportunity for discussion on the part of those attending. Any person interested may attend.

The Antioch hearing will be at 2 p. m., in the village hall. Hearings will also be held on December 12 in the Lake Villa village hall, at 3:30 p. m., and in the Wadsworth school (Town of Newport) at 7 p. m.

CHRISTMAS MAIL AIDS ARE GIVEN BY POSTMASTER

Suggestions on Best Ways of Sending Packages,
Cards, Offered

To avoid all possible delays in delivery, damage in shipment, extra postal charges due to violation of mailing rules, or mis-direction of mail and packages, Postmaster James F. Horan of Antioch is offering the following helpful suggestions to readers of the News:

"Try to mail your parcels early enough so they will reach their destination a week or so before Christmas. This will not only help the postal employees in giving you better service but will help to insure their arriving in the best of condition.

"Pack and wrap them securely. Address them on one side only. This will simplify the work of the clerk at the delivery office, who must check endorsements on all addressed sides, and whose work is greatly increased if there are addresses on more than one side.

"DO NOT place a communication within the parcel. This entails the payment of first class rates. However, the placing of a sheet of paper or card having the name and address of the sender on it inside the parcel is advisable. Valuable packages should be insured, and special handling and special delivery services for speeding their delivery may also be helpful.

"All parcels should have a return address. This should be placed in the upper left hand corner, with the address of the person for whom the package is intended in the lower right hand corner.

Card Senders, Attention!
"Printed Christmas cards may be mailed in unsealed envelopes to any point in the United States, at the rate of two ounces for 12c. They must contain no message other than a greeting. (Merry Christmas, Happy New Year and the like are permissible). This mail matter is known as third class and cannot be forwarded to another destination or returned to the sender without another prepayment of postage. They must contain no written greetings or signatures.

"First class mail rates are:

"Between post offices, 3c; for rural delivery, 2c; and for local delivery or drop letters, 1c. First class mail must be sealed. It can be forwarded with a new address on it or it has a return address on it.

"Valuable first class mail should be registered. Special delivery and air mail services are also available.

Weight Your Packages
"If you are in doubt as to whether your mail is overweight for the postage you have attached, have it weighed and avoid delay in delivery.

"The Antioch post office personnel will appreciate your co-operating to assure correct and speedy handling of the mail during the Christmas rush."

Attention is also called by Postmaster Horan to the following new regulation, adopted Oct. 31, 1938: "The postage rates on books consisting wholly of reading matter, containing no advertising matter other than incidental announcements of books, when mailed under such regulations as the Postmaster General may prescribe, shall be for the period commencing November 1, 1938, and extending June 30, 1939, 1 1/2 cents per pound or fraction thereof, irrespective of the zone of their destination.

"2. A book, within the contemplation of this section, shall be a cloth- or paper-bound volume having 24 or more pages, of which at least 22 are printed, and shall not contain ruled or blank pages intended for records or memoranda purposes.

"3. The permissible additions to and enclosures with four class matter as set forth in section 574 shall also be permissible in the case of books mailed under the provisions of this section."

Fate of Village Hall Grant Still in Doubt

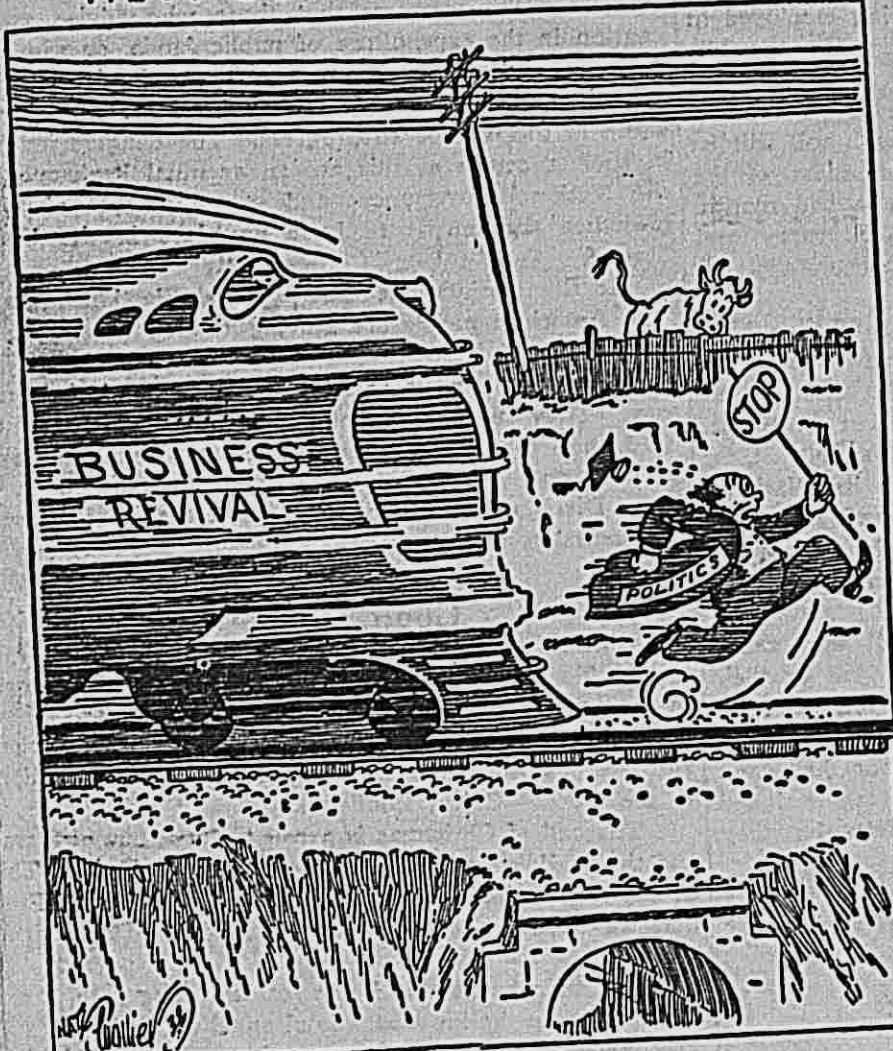

The Antioch village board is still waiting to hear the fate of the application which was made for a Government grant for a new village hall, according to Mayor George Bartlett.

No definite word has been received to date as to whether a PWA grant for this project will be made or not.

A $13,500 bond issue was voted by the village on Oct. 4 to meet part of the expenses for construction of a new hall.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Nelson spent Wednesday in Kenosha.

NEW LAKE CO. OFFICERS TAKE OVER DUTIES

Installation Ceremonies Are Held at Courthouse in Waukegan Monday

Six recently elected Lake county officers—Sheriff Thomas E. Kennedy, County Treasurer Garfield R. Leaf, County Clerk Jay B. Morse, Probate Clerk Allen Nelson, Probate Judge Martin C. Decker, and Judge Perry L. Persons—were inducted into office for four-year terms Monday at the courthouse in Waukegan.

A seventh elective officer, W. C. Petty, Antioch, county superintendent of schools, will not start his new term until July, when his present period of service expires.

The ceremony of assuming offices was given additional drama by the return of Sheriff Kennedy from St. Joseph's hospital at Hot Springs, Ark., where he underwent an appendicitis operation a little over two weeks ago.

C. K. Anderson of Antioch, representing the Lake County Republican committee, was among those on hand to welcome Sheriff Kennedy on his return from the hospital.

Deputies Named
Walter Atkinson, former mayor of North Chicago and a deputy sheriff for four years, was named chief deputy by Kennedy, and Stanley M. Christian, who has been a deputy for the past two terms, was placed second on the staff. Kennedy announced that the entire personnel employed by retiring Sheriff Lawrence A. Doolittle will remain on duty.

Treasurer Leaf named Gus Fredbeck, who has been deputy and bookkeeper during the past term, as deputy and cashier. Jennie Hanson was appointed as deputy and bookkeeper.

HAPPY YULETIDE FOR CHILDREN HERE PLANNED

Village Board Discusses Arrangements at Its Meeting Tuesday

The spirit of Christmas anticipation pervaded the meeting of the Antioch village board Tuesday evening, when plans to insure a happy Yule for children of the community were made.

Christmas lights and other decorations are to be put up along Main street some time in the early part or middle of next week.

The annual big "Community Christmas tree" will be a feature of the celebration, as in other years. Members of the village board are making individual contributions of supplies for the tree, and the firemen will help in trimming it and in distributing gifts.

Ladies of the village will take charge of filling boxes for the youngsters.

Plans for special entertainment features are also to be made.

To Broadcast Carols

The Antioch Lions club is arranging for the broadcasting of carols during the week preceding Christmas.

Commencing on Saturday, Dec. 17, according to present plans, the carols are to be broadcast over a loudspeaker system at intervals of 20 minutes.

The "community spirit" is being stressed throughout preparations for Antioch's Christmas observances.

Survivors, besides Mrs. Zimmerman, are a brother, Charles Wilton, Salem, Wis.; two other sisters, Mrs. Cora Gerred, Waukegan, and Mrs. Blanche Kiefer, Antioch, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Social Security Mgr. Will Be Here Dec. 13

Albert S. Lewis, manager of the Social Security Board field office at Waukegan, will be in Antioch on Tuesday, Dec. 13, with headquarters in the post office.

Old-age insurance benefits amounting to $1290.09 covering a total of 21 claims were certified for payment in Lake and McHenry counties in October.

In making public these figures, Mr. Lewis pointed out that claims for old-age insurance benefits are being certified daily for payment to those workers who reach age 65 after having held jobs covered by the old-age insurance law. Likewise, lump-sum payments are being made to heirs of workers who have died after having been thus employed.

Mr. Lewis stated that 1221 claims totaling $83,128.76 were certified for payment in the State of Illinois during October, and that the average payment made was $68.08.

"Any resident in Lake and McHenry counties served by the Waukegan field office who believes he has a claim for old-age insurance benefits, should file his claim at this office in person or by mail," Mr. Lewis stated.

Your War

"Keep the fifth man alive!"
That is the slogan which is now being employed in a drive to reduce the normally heavy winter automobile accident toll by at least 20 per cent.

If the United States can keep up the pace set in the first ten months of the year, the 1938 death toll will be 8,000 less than 1937's. We are in the midst of the crucial period now. December is always a bad month. And, looking into next year, January, February and March, with snow, ice and short days, constitute a period of maximum hazard.

The organized safety movement has reached a high point of efficiency. The technique of accident reduction has been amazingly perfected. Sporadic, desultory, localized safety campaigns have proven almost worthless. Instead, the safety education movement, supported by the casualty insurance industry through its National Conservation Bureau, state governments and numerous commercial and non-commercial groups, is attempting, with a high degree of success to reach every motorist every day.

Thus, the safety experts are doing all they can—and they are doing the biggest and best job in their history. The rest—and this is something you can't repeat too often—is up to the motorist and the pedestrian. The safety workers can offer you advice—but they can't open your ears and eyes if you insist on being deaf and blind. They can show you the road to safety—but they can't make you take it.

This war is your war. It is being fought to save your life, the lives of your friends and families, your property. Enlist in it now.

Going Ahead

There's no stopping a good thing—as some recent figures released by the Farm Credit Administration indicate.

Continuing their steady climbing out of depression, agricultural marketing cooperatives registered a 14 per cent increase in business volume in the last year. Transactions totaled but slightly less than $2,000,000,000—a rise of 10 per cent over 1936-37.

Dairy products, with a value of $685,000,000, led the list, followed by grain. Notable improvement was likewise registered in cotton, fruits and vegetables.

Non-Resistance Not Enough

A surprising minority of conservatives still cling to the hope that there is safety in non-resistance. They admit that private enterprise and individualism are being subjected to a deadly assault, but their only advice is to "play ball" with the reformers—"co-operate," and maybe in some vague way the world will resume its old orbit.

when the quake has ceased. This is the blindest folly—Nation's Business.

The Middle of the Road

An editorial in the New York Times, one of America's foremost Democratic dailies, says: "A great number of Americans have been encouraged to believe that it is possible to grow richer by working less and by producing less; that it is the proper business of a government to subsidize large numbers of its people; that there is an inexhaustible supply of money which can be used endlessly for this purpose; that those who advise greater caution in the expenditure of public funds, or who urge a relaxation of restraints which needlessly handicap private enterprise, are merely 'ducal overlords' who stand in the way of all progress. The dangers involved in such a course as this are an eventual bankruptcy of the National Government and encouragement of 'class' prejudice that ought to have no place in the United States."

It then points out that the last election indicates "the American people are moving toward the middle of the road."

The people want social reform, where it is necessary. They want adequate provision made for the needy and the elderly. But at the same time they want to keep our institutions, our democratic heritage, inviolate. Disregarding all political partisanship, that's the best news in a long while.

Good Thoughts

Christmas is not a time or a season, but a state of mind. To cherish peace and good will, to be plentiful in mercy, is to have the real spirit of Christmas. If we think on these things, there will be born in us a Saviour and over us will shine a star sending its gleam of hope to the world.—Calvin Coolidge.

The call of Christmas is a call to leave our own way and the world's way and to take the way of Christ. This is, indeed, our high calling of God in Christ Jesus. Pray that we be not altogether unworthy of it.—Dr. Charles Brown.

Tell me what is this innumerable throng
Singing in the heavens a loud angelic song?
These are they who come with swift and shining feet

From round about the throne of God the Lord of Light to greet...

Tell me, how may I join in this holy feast
With all the kneeling world, and I of all the least?
Fear not, O faithful heart, but bring what most is meet;

Bring love alone, true love alone, and lay it at His feet.

—Richard Watson Gilder.
Today the Christ is, more than ever before, "the way, the truth, and the life,"—"which lighteth every man that cometh into the world," healing all sorrow, sickness, and sin... At this immortal hour, all human hate, pride, greed, lust should bow and declare Christ's power, and the reign of Truth and Life divine should make man's being pure and blest.—Mary Baker Eddy.

And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ.—Revelation 12.

death of his brother, Herman, Oetting, who died Saturday evening of heart failure at his home at Berwyn, Ill. He was formerly in company with the Oetting brothers ice business at Camp Lake where he will be remembered by his many friends.

Charles Oetting was a caller at the William Bushing home near Bristol. Mrs. Irving Elms and daughter, Louise, Antioch, visited her cousin, Mrs. Oetting, Sunday.

Mrs. William Evans and Mrs. Nellie Runyard attended the funeral services for Mrs. William Coot at Salem Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McKay and children, Chicago, visited the former's mother, Mr. Anna McKay, Saturday. The school children enjoyed a vacation on Friday. Their teacher, Mr. Fox, visited other schools.

Christmas Seal Letters Go Out Throughout Country

Uncle Sam's faithful mail carriers have delivered 15,830 Christmas Seal letters into homes throughout Lake county. Each letter contained Christmas seals or Christmas Seal bonds, for which the association is expecting a sufficient amount of cash to sponsor its work the coming year.

If the recipient is unable to buy the Christmas Seals the association asks that he read the letter enclosed explaining its work, and also, the early diagnosis pamphlet.

Those who received seals are asked to spread the preservation of health by placing the gay little Seals on all letters and packages during the holiday season. The money realized from these Seals is used in the control and prevention of tuberculosis in Lake county.

A prominent merchant called attention Saturday to the fact that he had not received Christmas seals at his place of business. When he was told that two sheets of Seals had been mailed to his residence, he said those would be used on mail from the home but he wanted some to use at the office on his monthly statements and business mail. He received 500 Christmas seals at his store the same afternoon. This message was grateful news to the association and it announces that it is ready to deliver seals to any other merchant who wishes to adopt the procedure of this venturist.

Those desiring extra Christmas seals either in the home or in business offices may telephone the association at Waukegan Majestic 1805. Those who fail to receive seals in the mail may telephone the office or ask some member of the Christmas Seal Sale committee to provide them with some. The committee consists of Edward L. Baker, Lake Forest; Harry A. Hall, Waukegan; J. A. Ross, Waucondy; Mrs. George W. Childs, Highland Park, and Max Kohner, Libertyville. The usual weekly chest clinics sponsored by the Lake County Tuberculosis association will be held Wednesday and Friday mornings at St. Therese hospital, Waukegan, from 8:30 to 11:00 a. m. New patients are being requested to make an appointment with the association, tel. Majestic 1805.

Remember your friends at Christmas time with greeting cards—only $1.25 for a box with your name printed on them, at the News office.

'Ride on a Rail' Punishment
One form of disciplinary punishment for soldiers in the early days consisted of sentencing them to ride what the men called the wooden horse. The sentence came from the commander and the men carried it out. They made the offender straddle a bent sapling and then tossed and jolted him until he was quite willing to say "uncle" to each man in the company—or say whatever it was they said in those days.

Statute and Common Law

Statute law is that passed by a law-making body, while common law is based on custom and legal or judicial precedent.

THE IMPORTANCE OF EYESIGHT

The eye and other organs of the body are intimately connected through the nervous system. Therefore, impairments in the visual apparatus may be responsible for disturbances in other organs of the body. Many conditions are aggravated and actually caused when the eyesight and movement of the eye muscles are not in harmony. The greatest amount of good can be achieved by examining children in early life and correcting any existing eye troubles.

CAMPFIRE MUSINGS

(By Jack Hoag)

Prosperity is a goal that every country, city, village and individual is seeking and the shortest road to prosperity is to be found in co-operation. A nation, city, or village is just a gathering together of individuals and consequently, the prosperity of the nation is exactly in proportion to the prosperity of the individuals that compose it.

Whether we realize it or not, humanity is entirely dependent on its fellow man. Your prosperity is my prosperity and vice versa. If you are prosperous you have money to spend with me, and I in turn will have money with which to conduct my business. If the whole world could be made to realize this, and each individual would co-operate with his fellow man, instead of trying to take advantage of him, what a world this would be to live in!

For an outlander to attempt to tell a hustling town like Antioch what it needs may seem "nervy" but if the outlander has "vision" he can often see what is overlooked by local mercantile and industrial heads for the reason that they see the same thing daily and its possibilities have ceased to register in their minds.

Antioch and its surrounding country have everything needed to put the town over in a big way. It is the center of a prosperous farming community and it is located right in the heart of one of the most beautiful lake regions in the world. Men will go to the ends of the earth to make money, and they will spend money for fun. This proves that fun or sport is one of the most powerful drawing cards known to man. Give a man a good day's sport and he'll come again.

Common sense should show everybody that every outsider who visits a locality is a direct asset to the community. (He spends money there!) And the money that he spends with one individual actually benefits every other individual in the district. It pays to greet the visitor with open arms. Every individual he meets should consider himself a reception committee and do his, or her, best to show the visitor a good time.

"Calamity Howlers," as pessimists are called in the west, are not only a nuisance, they are an actual menace to the district in which they live. No one likes to listen to a hardluck story—the reason that everybody has troubles enough of their own to worry about without listening to a tale of the woes of others. The merchant who is always talking about poor sales, or the farmer who constantly talks of bad crops, taxes, etc., is actually driving trade (money) away from his door, and such talk not only affects their individual credit, (these tales reach the banker's ears), but they affect the standing of the community in which they live.

Common sense dictates that we greet the visitor with a smile. Sure it's a good day even if it's raining. You can't stop the rain, and you might just as well call it a good day as bad. The farmer who answers the stock question "How's crops?" with, "Well, the season has not been so bad! I've no cause for complaint; but this is Antioch you know, we have good farms here!" goes a long way toward selling that visitor on Antioch and that same visitor may buy a farm here later.

Sell the visiting man or woman Antioch!

That is the big point to keep in mind and if each individual will do this, the effect is bound to be good and you will have taken a long step on the road to prosperity. But, some of you will say, what have I got to sell? The answer is prosperity! Antioch is a village of good homes, fine schools, churches, and a universally high class of citizens. The town does not tolerate "rough-stuff." That is a big thing to an outsider.

Then there is the Chain O' Lakes region. The lotus beds are beautiful, the hunting and fishing are good; you can't find better boating or bathing. There are golf and tennis, and horse-back riding in summer and skating, ice-boating, skiing and coasting in winter. What more could a sports-

Hurry, Pop! What's the Reason For All These Fake Whiskers?

Peggy Hopkins Joyce plays hostess to all the Santa Clauses in New York at a luncheon in the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria. Lucky no youngsters were around or there might have been trouble!

What will you answer this Christmas when starchy-eyed Junior raises his face and asks:

"Daddy, how come I saw three Santa Clauses downtown today?"

Or:

"Mother, why was Santa Claus riding in an automobile today? Are his reindeer hurt?"

Or, looking at a newspaper:

"Why was Santa Claus so thin when I saw him on the corner today? He's fat in this picture!"

This is the season when harassed parents must think up quick answers or destroy Junior's faith in St. Nicholas. For Santa Claus, though a messenger of joy, can also be a pest. In Omaha a sympathetic mayor last year ruled that the army of fake Santas must leave the streets, thereby bringing sighs of relief from Mother and Dad.

You have a fine Lions club here and they are doing good work. We had the pleasure of meeting them the other evening and learned something of what had been done during the past year. It was all good. Keep it up! But don't leave "Selling Antioch" to the Lions club. It is the duty, and should be the pleasure of every individual living in this district to "Sell Antioch" every day and all the time. "Sell Antioch" whenever the occasion offers. For in "selling Antioch" you sell yourself; prosperity for all is just around the corner if you'll just get together and "Sell Antioch."

In The Glamour of Christmas

BETTY PRICE dabbed a spot of rouge on each cheek, touched the places lightly for a natural effect, then dipped in the perfume bottle and rubbed the back of her small ears.

Tilting back the blurred mirror, she surveyed herself critically. The effect seemed entirely satisfactory. Betty sighed ecstatically. "I look like a million dollars," she breathed. "I can almost convince myself that I am a great lady tonight."

Carefully her silver-slipped feet descended the narrow stairs. She must get away as quickly as possible. What would the unromantic Mr. and Mrs. James Barstow say if they saw the Cinderella of their kitchen arrayed in garments like these? Betty chuckled at the thought. They would think she had gone crazy if they found out that she had spent a whole month's salary to rent the things she was wearing, and to buy a ticket for the opera. "But they never will find out," she told herself, as she carefully closed the back door behind her.

At the corner, she waited for a cab. On the way down, she heard the voice of Christmas everywhere. She saw its symbols in shop windows; in arches of green and red strung across the streets. She told herself it must be the Christmas feeling in the air that made her do this daring thing. It was utterly ridiculous to dress up like a great lady, but one had to be different at Christmas. And life had been pretty dull for Betty since she had to accept the work she was doing. It offered very little inspiration.

The story of the opera took her back to a medieval world. In a few moments she was completely lost in its atmosphere, so much so that she failed to notice that the man seated at her right was sending admiring glances in her direction. When the curtain went up, he leaned over and spoke.

"I love this," he said simply.

"I do, too," Betty answered, with a little catch in her voice. It seemed incredible that he was speaking to her. He was really acting as if she belonged. By the time the curtain went up again they were calling each other Prince and Princess, taking the names of the two leading characters on the stage.

As the great drama moved to its close Betty tried to hurry away. She didn't want her Prince to find out what an impostor she was. But he had taken hold of her arm. "Couldn't we go and have some coffee?" he suggested. "I know I'm a stranger to you, but—but it's Christmas—and—"

"I should say 'no,'" Betty told herself. "I should even tell him the truth about myself." Instead, she accompanied him to the coffee shop across the street. She couldn't deny herself this one hour of happiness. After it was over, well—Betty would not let her thoughts go further.

She almost forgot that she was playing a part as they sat together. They seemed to have so much in common. He had read widely—the type of books she liked; he took an interest in so many things she liked; seemed to be as romantic and visionary as herself. But he spoke no word to indicate that he wanted to see her again. She had been foolish to expect it.

Gloom enveloped the world for Betty next morning. As if to add to her humiliation and misery, a clogged-up drain was sending oozy brown water back into the sink. Her feet dragged across the floor as she answered the plumber's knock.

Then the world spun dizzily around her for a moment. A rush of joy, of wonder, lifted her heart. Her Prince was standing in the doorway, his evening clothes replaced by clean blue overalls, his good-looking face wrinkled in bewilderment.

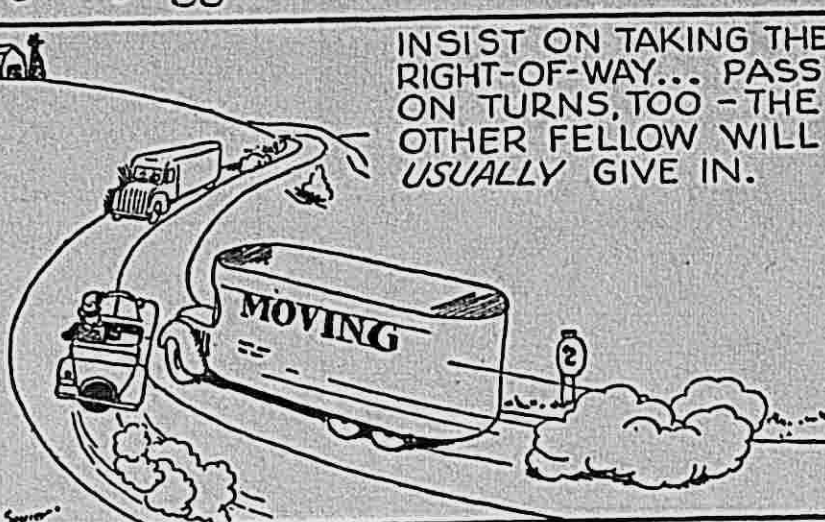

"I—I thought you were—" he stammered.

"And I—I thought you were—" Betty gasped in answer.

When explanations were over, a make-believe Prince and Princess were wondering if Christmas wasn't the very nicest time for a wedding ceremony.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.

Lesson for December 11

THE SIN OF COVETOUSNESS

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:17; Luke 12:15-21; 1 Timothy 6:6-10.
GOLDEN TEXT—Thou shalt not covet.—Exodus 20:17.

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

"The word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart" (Heb. 4:12). These are the words that came to the writer's mind as he read the Scripture portions assigned for this lesson. He would fain have set aside his own comments and used this column to print the words from the Bible. If any reader of these lines purposes to read just these efforts to expound the truth, and not to read the Bible itself, let me plead with you to stop here and turn to God's Word. Let its powerful truth grip your soul and change your life.

It seems peculiarly appropriate that this lesson on covetousness should come right in the midst of our preparations for Christmas, for it directs our attention away from things to God, from outward preparation to the preparation of the heart, from greedy desire to true liberality of heart. Christmas may be literally "made over" for all of us if we receive its truth.

I. A Command (Exod. 20:17).

"Thou shalt not covet."
This last commandment carries us "beyond the domain of civil magistracy into that intellectual realm of motive, desire, and thought, where God alone is Lord and Judge" (Dykes). It deals with the heart, out of which are all the issues of life. It reaches to the root of so much that is wicked and destructive in the world—the covetousness of man. The love of money makes men lie, steal, kill, cheat; in fact, "the whole realm of human interrelations is disorganized and broken up by the dishonoring of the tenth commandment" (Morgan).

II. A Warning (Luke 12:13-21).

"Beware of covetousness."
The teaching of this passage is so directly opposite to all ideas regarding such matters accepted by the world at large, that it may be a total surprise to some readers and attendants at Bible school.

The yardstick of success in the world—for an individual, and organization, or a nation; yes, even for many a church—is the possession of wealth, or property, or other "things." Write it then in large letters on the hearts and minds of our boys and girls, "A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth" (v. 15). The one who was known to his friends (and to himself) as "a rich man" (v. 16), but whom God knew as a "fool" (v. 20), had more than he could use for himself. He had to build new and bigger barns, and could not see the "barns" that were already prepared, for, as Ambrose says, "Thou hast barns—the bosoms of the needy, the houses of widows, the mouths of orphans and infants." He was a fool who loved money for himself. One wonders what he had to say for himself when that very night he was called into the presence of God to give an account of his stewardship (v. 20). If you are similarly situated and have the same attitude, what will you say in that day?

An important point which we must note is that Jesus expressly repudiated the connecting of His name with the so-called "social gospel" in His reply (v. 14) to the question of the covetous fellow who regarded his inheritance as of more importance than brotherly love. Those who are ignoring the gospel of redemption and claiming Jesus as a social reformer or the "judge and divider" of some new economic solution for the world's ills, need to read and ponder this verse. Every Christian is interested deeply in social problems, but knows that the first concern of Christ and His followers is the souls of men.

III. A Way of Victory (1 Tim. 6:6-10).

"Godliness with contentment."

As a minister of the gospel the writer would first remind himself that this was written by Paul to the preacher Timothy. Brethren in the ministry, let us not fall into the temptation and snare that comes with the love of money.

In this dizzy age when many are so intent on making money that they have no time for home and children, church and fellowship; when men neglect their responsibilities and duties as citizens to get gain; when any dirty business is all right if it produces a profit; when "for gold men betray their country, their friends, their God, their immortal souls" (Farrar)—yes, in this day let us remind men that "we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain that we can carry nothing out." Let us teach and exemplify in our lives the fact that the only real and worth while gain in life is "godliness with contentment."

Antioch Sequoits Win Easily Over Wauconda

(By Scoop)

The Antioch Sequoits got off to a flying start in their opening game of the Northwest conference by defeating the strong Wauconda five, 27-17, Friday evening at Antioch Township High school.

The Antioch quintet, under the guidance of Coach R. H. Childers, possessed entirely too much speed and power for the Wauconda team. At the end of the first quarter the score was tied 4-4, but in the next quarter the Antioch team got under way and scored five points and held the Bulldogs to two points. From this point on it was all Antioch, with Antioch scoring 12 points in the third quarter and holding Wauconda to 10 points.

The high scoring Brogan led the Sequoits with 12 points, while Burke and Effinger scored 6 and 7 respectively. Stone led the scoring for Wauconda with 8 points.

The Antioch team committed a total of 11 personal fouls while Wauconda committed 9.

The Antioch lightweights downed the Wauconda bantams in the curtain raiser by the one-sided score of 33-15. W. Thompson led the scoring with 12 points to his credit.

Antioch Lances Defeat Grant's Eagles Team

The Lances will play the high school team tonight, and the strong Edith Wolfe team from Zion next Monday evening. Tentative plans are also being made to arrange a game with the Antioch Lions club team.

American Turkey Has Foreign Name

You'll eat your turkey and like it this Christmas, but do you know where this festive bird got its name? The turkey is the only species of poultry native to this country. Its name is attributed by some to its call notes, "turk-turk-turk"; others believe that its head ornaments, resembling the fez worn by natives of Turkey, gave rise to its name.

Another explanation is seen in the fact that the first turkeys from America were sold in Spain, largely by Hebrew merchants. Since the bird was frequently confused with the peacock, it is said that the Hebrew traders called it "tukki," their name for the peacock. With the widespread use of this name in English, it easily became the recent "turkey."

Christmas Celebration Dates Back to 354 A.D., Roman Records Show

The earliest celebration of the birth of Christ, December 25 of each year, took place in the Fourth century, and the custom spread from the western to the eastern church. Before that date the commemoration of Christ's nativity and baptism took place January 6.

First mention of Christmas is found in a Roman document known as the "Philocalian calendar." In the year 354, and the first English celebration of the festival was in 598, when St. Augustine baptized 10,000 converts.

In 567, the Council of Tours, France, declared a 12-day festival from Christmas to Epiphany, and later, from 991 to 1016, the laws of Ethelred ordained that all strife should cease at Christmas. In Germany, Christmas was established in 813 by the Synod of Mainz, and in Norway by King Hakon the Good, in 950.

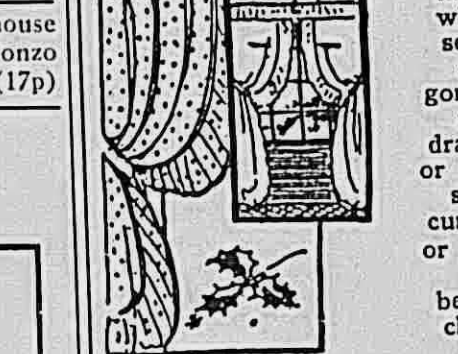

Ships Have 'Sweethearts'
Ships as well as sailors have a "sweetheart" in nearly every port, says Collier's Weekly. Known as the ship's husband, the "sweetheart" is the gentleman who, as a representative of the owners, attends to the provisioning, repairing, entering and clearing of the vessel while it is in port.
